Subject: Housing Alert! From New Alternatives

Greetings!

Program Alert!

HUD announces that TRACSMAIL is back online until 3/13/2009

A March 5th posting on the TRACS Discussion Forum stated that the TRACSMAIL system was temporarily placed back in service because of a, "severe backlog of requests for assistance at the Multifamily Helpdesk."

The extension is intended to help prevent extended subsidy payment delays, but conversion to the new iMAX system is still mandatory.

For other updates related to the last days of the TRACSMail conversion effort, see <http://www.hud.gov/offices/hsg/mfh/trx/announcements.pdf>

New Alternatives issues Program Alerts in addition to its regular bi-monthly newsletters so that you get the critical information you need as soon as possible.
